PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello! I hope you are all doing well; the midterm break is on the horizon, and I'm itching to get that week off. We have a busy week ahead, so read on and look through this issue of the 'Fo to see what's going on.

Sno Golf is happening this Saturday! Get a team of four together to build a wacky (or unwacky, doesn't really matter) contraption that gets a tennis ball from point A to point B, all while ensuring that it is simple enough to be used by those who are not not-intoxicated. We also need White Officials (it's not a race thing, I swear) to "judge" the competitors and to totally not accept any bribes offered by the competitors. Sno Golf is my FAVOURITE event of the year, and I'm sure it'll be yours to. Forms and tickets are in the SESS office and are due this Friday!

Drinks and Tea with Elder Joseph is taking place in the Student Lounge this Monday at noon! Hear his wisdom and learn of his journey while enjoying some delicious FREE snacks and drinks.

The CSCE is hosting Bxxr Olympics this Friday. Talk to the Civils for more info (you may need to pick the concrete out of their ears for them to hear you, though).

Guest Lecturer for Geotech is happening on TUESDAY. Talk to the Geo's about it (insert joke about picking dirt out of their ears here). There will also be free pizza for those who attend!

SESS Executive elections are coming up soon! Want to make a difference in our college? Run for an exec position for the SESS! It's a great way to learn leadership skills, is great for networking (I got a job because someone liked seeing "President" on my resume), and is loads of fun. Nomination forms are in the Office and are due in a week!

The USESf referendum is around the corner, too! The University of Saskatchewan Engineering Students Fund (USESf) is aimed to help students advance their academic experience through funding various things. The referendum opens on Feb 10th. Check out the SESS website (sess.usask.ca) to find out more information.

That's it for me. I hope you all have a great week!

Cheers,
Dayne G.

Don't pretend like you ACTUALLY wear everything in your closet!

Drop off your gently used clothing items and non-perishable food items in the marked bins in 1A88 until January 31st!

Thank you!

100 YEARS FLASHBACK

1979: Sno-Golf

One of the best annual events is coming up this Saturday! Sno-Golf has been a tradition for literal decades and it hasn't lost its lustre. Teams must complete a round of golf using anything but their hands, and it always makes for a good laugh. You can register as a team, a White Official (a 'judge'), or as a spectator at the SESS Office until Friday!
