PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello!

If you haven't done so already, be sure to vote in the USESF Referendum! It closes on Monday (..today, if you're reading this on Monday).

Like everyone else in this brick box we call home, I am counting down the days till the end of classes... Only 10 left! Make sure that you are preparing for your finals, as I don't want to see anyone tripping up now and becoming a Christmas Grad.

This week we have Charity Winter Formal tickets on sale in the SESS Office. It starts with a nice dinner followed by an awesome dance, with raffle baskets also available to win! Proceeds will go to the Gear Up charity. Ticket prices unknown as of today, but expect the tickets to cost roughly $20. Applications for Sports E's and Social E's are also available in the office, which are stitched right onto your Poofie. Come check a form to see if you're eligible!

If you are a first year, listen up. We are looking for an ambitious first year to become our Sno-Golf Commissioner! This is something that I did in my first-year, and I loved it. You get the opportunity to plan a (beloved) event and lead a committee of fellow first-years to help you. Sno-Golf is "Fun in a Field" or "Golfing, but more fun", and lots more that we can't really talk about in this publication. Ask an SESS Executive, or any Upper-Year who looks like they enjoy having fun about Sno-Golf to learn more. You won't regret it.

Lastly, if you're feeling extra generous, come by the SESS office to sign up for the Blood Drive happening this Thursday! See inside for some more details. We'll be leaving in a carpool at 11:30am. See inside for more details!

Not much else going on this week, so have fun studying!

PS. Let's all pool some money together and buy a Tesla CyberTruck just to flex on the Agros. IEEE Beer Nights will be much more lit when you arrive in a CyberTruck.

PPS. I also think that each CyberTruck sold should come with the complete Daft Punk discography. Someone tell Ol' Musky about my idea.

Cheers,
Dayne G.

100 YEARS FLASHBACK

1976: Annual Blood Drive

Every year, the SESS promotes and organizes a blood drive, where students sign up to carpool to a blood donor clinic and donate blood. This tradition extends far back in the College of Engineering's history, and we are proud to have great attendance every year. This photograph was in the 1976 yearbook—the clinics look a tad different nowadays! To sign up for this year's blood drive or to see if you're eligible, stop by the SESS Office!

Energy Mixer

Interested in shaping the future of the energy industry? Throw on something bizcaz and come on out to the Society of Petroleum Engineers Energy Mixer at Louis Loft Monday December 2nd 7-9 pm. Join the SPE execs and other Usask students pursuing careers in the energy industry for a free drink and appies to go along with some good conversation. Admission is free and everyone is welcome!

IT'S BACK

HFR Problem Paper: Cheapest on campus
