IN THIS ISSUE

Happy Monday!

The Co-op and Career Centre continues to help us out in job-hunting season, with Cameco paying us a visit this Wednesday.

If you're curious about what an internship is actually like, MESA is hosting a Q&A later that day with free pizza!

Lastly, GESS is organizing Canadian Tuxedo 2.0 Pubcrawl Friday night! Visit their Insta (@usaskgess) for the details and tickets.

UPCOMING EVENTS

20
NOV

MESA Internship Advising Night

A panel of students who completed internships will share their advice and lessons learned! Free pizza for attendees ;)

... and more!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hey Eng!

I hope you had a well-engineered break—optimized for relaxation and minimal stress. It's a quieter week around campus from us, so take some time to catch your breath and ease back into things.

Thanks to everyone who participated in our Mental Health Week activities before the break! As finals approach, remember to prioritize your mental health and take advantage of the support and academic resources available. If you ever need help or have questions, don't hesitate to reach out at president@sess.usask.ca.

Now for some exciting news!

The Saskatoon Engineering Competition is happening November 29th to December 1st, featuring eight categories: Communications, Consulting, Impromptu Debate, Innovative Design, Programming, Re-Engineering, Jr. and Sr. Design. It's an amazing chance to challenge yourself, have fun, and even advance to the Western Engineering Competition—and maybe Nationals! It's a fantastic learning opportunity and a great way to boost your resume.

The deadline to sign up is November 19th, so don't miss out (see QR code on page 3). Let's show the rest of Canada the strength of USask engineering!

Wishing you a smooth return to studies,
Sarah K.
