IN THIS ISSUE

Happy Monday! As midterm season continues, so do the great events!

Learn about obtaining your P. Eng designation with Women and Allies in Engineering on Thursday, and sign up for EcoHack 2025 on Saturday.

If you're receiving your iron ring this weekend, celebrate with all your friends at the multidisciplinary after-party!

Plus, food sales should be back on this week :)

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome Back, Eng!

I hope you all had an amazing Reading Week and managed to catch up on some much-needed rest (or at least minimized the sleep debt!). Whether you spent the break recharging, studying, or just binge-watching your favorite shows, I hope you're feeling refreshed and ready to tackle the rest of the term.

A huge thank you to everyone who participated in Mental Health Week before the break! From DIY mocktails to care package giveaways, we loved seeing so many of you take a well-deserved break and engage in some fun. Hopefully, those little moments of self-care helped lighten the load.

If you missed it last term, order your Discipline Jacket and Poofie by Monday, March 17th using the QR code on page 3! (Members get a discount!)

Now, onto some exciting upcoming events!

USask Women and Allies in Engineering are hosting an event on Thursday, Feb 27th at 5:30 PM in Eng 2C02. Guest speakers will share their experiences going from graduate to EIT to P.Eng., offering valuable insights into what's ahead in your engineering journey. Whether you're curious about career paths, professional development, or just want to hear real-world experiences, this is an event worth attending!

EcoHack 2025 is happening on March 1st, hosted by the USask Office of Sustainability! This is your chance to team up, brainstorm, and develop innovative solutions to environmental and social sustainability challenges. It's a great opportunity to flex your problem-solving skills and make an impact! Find the QR code on page 3 for registration and more details.

That's all from me for now, have an amazing week, and I'll see you again next time!

Take care and stay awesome,
Sarah K.
