PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hey Eng!

Another Monday, another Fo'; hope you're all surviving the start of the week! March is here, and I, for one, couldn't be more excited for the warmer weather. We're finally on the home stretch to spring, so hang in there!

If you missed out on the last sale, don't worry, we're bringing back poofies, armbars and discipline jackets! The deadline to order is March 17th, so make sure to grab yours before it's too late. Check out the QR code on page 3 to place your order. And here's a bonus —SESS members get exclusive discounts!

We also have a larger merch sale happening in collaboration with Midwest! This includes t-shirts, hoodies, bags, and jackets: everything you need to rep your Eng pride.

On another exciting note, USask Women and Allies in Engineering are hosting the Engineered for Women Design Challenge on Tuesday, Mar 4th @ ENG 2C02 (5:30-8:30pm). This mini hackathon will get you thinking about everyday designs that are less safe, convenient, or comfortable for women and how to innovate better solutions. It's a great opportunity to tackle real-world problems, flex your creativity, and engage in meaningful design. Registration link can be found on page 3.

That's all from me for now. Have a fantastic week and may your midterm results be what you hoped for!

Cheers,
Sarah K.

ENGINEERED FOR WOMEN DESIGN CHALLENGE

Often times products are designed with men as the default and adaptations are made for women afterwards. It's time to change that. Let's put women at the forefront of design and engineer solutions specifically for her! Join us for this challenge and create innovations that prioritize women's needs from the start.
