IN THIS ISSUE

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy Monday!

Today at 5:30 pm is ASHRAE's first talk in their speaker series, TechTalks: HVAC & Beyond!

The "Sheafing" has been pushed to tonight at 7 pm due to an unexpected issue! With finals coming up, channel some of that stress into tearing up newspapers and making a mess for the Agros to clean up ;)

It's been a pleasure to make this newsletter every week; I hope you all enjoy my last issue and I wish everyone very good luck with finals!

~ Charlotte, SESS VP Comms

Hey Engineering!

This edition of the Fo' is a little bittersweet; it's the last one of the academic year! Looking back, it's been a year full of unforgettable moments. From the wild energy of the Western Engineering competition to the chaos of AgBag Drag and from industry networking events to late-night study grinds in the Lounge, we've made it through together. Whether you were pulling all-nighters, repping SESS at conferences, or just surviving your midterms with an unholy amount of redbull, I hope you found something to enjoy along the way. It's been an incredible year, and I'm grateful to have been a part of it with all of you!

On another note, the election results are in, and we officially have our executive team for next year! A huge congratulations to the 2025-26 SESS Executive:

President: Kieran Kucharyshen

VP Student Affairs: Sharyar Faruqi

VP Corporate Relations: Hassan Asim

VP External Affairs: Matthew Washington

VP Communications: Abdelrahman Mohamed Shedik

VP Administration: Erick Monreal

I have no doubt this team will do an amazing job leading the society next year. Stepping into these roles is no small feat, and I know they'll work hard to make the SESS even better. Be sure to support them, share your ideas, and get involved, because SESS is, and always will be, for the students!

As finals season kicks into high gear, remember to take care of yourself. This time of year can be overwhelming, and it's easy to feel like you have to be working 24/7. But rest is just as important as studying! Make time to move around, eat something that isn't just instant ramen and give your brain a break when you need it. You've made it this far, and you will get through this, just one day at a time.

That's all from me this year! A massive congratulations to everyone graduating; you did it! For those returning in the fall, I hope you have a fantastic summer filled with rest, adventure, and maybe even a little bit of engineering fun. Best of luck with finals, and may the curve be ever in your favor!

It's been an honor,
SESS President
Sarah K.

... and more!
